

A mural in Belfast
March 27, 2008
taken by Sophie Nguyen,
an Erasmus student in Dublin

The caption reads:

Belfast telegraph. Several hundred familys were forced to flee their homes last night as houses came under attack from republicans. The number of homeless is running into several thousand, more people were moving out of riot areas* today. The women and children have been offered shelter** in cities across the sea. Security forces moved in to bring calm into riot areas*.

Vocabulary:

*riot areas → les zones d'émeutes

**a shelter → un abri, un refuge