

HOMEWORK

1a- According to the date given at the beginning and the reference to Margie's great-great-grandfather, when did "real books" stop being printed? Does this seem plausible to you?

2a- What is a regular teacher for us? What about for Margie? (express your and her opinion)

1b- What are books like in 2157? What are they called?

2b- How does the teacher mark/grade Margie's paper?

1c- What does Tommy think people used to do with paper books once (une fois que) they had read them?

2c- What is the inspector's real job? Find an element to justify your answer. (l. 30-52)

1d- Where did Tommy find the book? What do people usually put in such a place? What does it reveal about paper books in the story?

2d- How does the inspector behave with Margie? Give examples justifying your answer. (l. 30-48)
